The new Mission Statement for the Arizona Association of Community College Trustees is to provide collaboration among Arizona’s community college governing boards and with the Arizona Community College Coordinating Council. The Purpose is to provide trustee professional development, to provide a forum for discussion, and to advocate for an excellent, student success focused, accessible and affordable Arizona community college system.

1.05.4 College President
Dr. Rottweiler informed the Board that over $2M of the $20M fund balance referenced during the public hearing is in Restricted Funds that can only be used for statutorily approved functions. Dr. Rottweiler noted the actual fund balance is closer to $18M; a cash balance consistent with a solvency ratios of about 38-39% for a budget of about $43M. Most experts say a public community college is wise to have at a minimum of 33% up to 50%; most would suggest, as a risk management, the college should have six months of operating resources.

Dr. Rottweiler provided a legislative update, noting that at 12:26 AM on Friday, May 4, the second session of the 53rd Legislature was adjourned sine die. On May 3, before they closed, Senate Bill 1520 the General Appropriate Bill was passed by both chambers and was signed by Governor Ducey.

FY’19 State Aid and STEM/Workforce
- Total Appropriation to community colleges = $51,478,200
  - no funding for Maricopa or Pima
- Funding for Cochise College included
  - $4.6M M&O
  - $5.8M Equalization
  - $1M STEM

The finalized budget will be presented to the Board in June and will be published in the Herald consistent with Arizona Revised Statute no later than June 5, for public notification.

Senate and House Bill Updates:
- H2172 Postsecondary Institutions; Possession; Non-Lethal Weapons - Failed in the Senate 10 ayes 19 nays, and one no vote
- H2563 Postsecondary Institutions; Free Speech was signed by the Governor. The community colleges and the universities worked closely with the Goldwater Institute to ensure the amendment language had only a few regulations and reporting burdens placed upon the colleges.

Cochise College administration is scheduled to have a meeting with attorney Britt Hanson to address the free speech bill. Mr. Hanson attended a community college conference on behalf of Cochise College, where all community college attorneys were present, and discussion topics included the free speech bill. They are working to get consensus for a uniformed policy across all community colleges, along with a response to the colleges need to be prepared to make regarding the Arizona Supreme Court's ruling as it relates to the deferred action of childhood arrivals (DACA) students.

During the meeting, Mr. Dorow noted he was previously a Dean of Career

Janet Cramer, Division Assistant for Facilities and Maintenance, presented the 2018 Achieved Classified Excellence (ACE) Award. Ms. Cramer then announced winners Mark Berumen, Instructional Media Technician, (unable to attend), Mario Ibarra, Grounds Technician and Inmate Supervisor, Dawn Nuetzel, Division Assistant for Math and Science, and Sylvia Prado, Library Cataloging Specialist, (unable to attend). On behalf of the Classified Association, she congratulated the recipients and thanked them for their hard work.

Dr. Rottweiler noted the four individuals would be recognized during Convocation in August, at which time they will receive an award and a stipend for their efforts. This is an award that is recognition from their colleagues, and there is no higher recognition. He thanked Ms. Cramer for presenting, noting she did a great job.

Mr. Ortega congratulated and thanked the award winners for their hard work.

3.04 Financial Aid Mentoring Program

Dr. Rottweiler introduced Karen Emmer, Director of Financial Aid, and noted that during the May Governing Board meeting, the NISOD winners were recognized; however, Ms. Emmer was unable to attend the meeting to be recognized. During that meeting, Mr. Quinn asked to receive a report regarding the Financial Aid Mentoring Program.

Ms. Emmer provided a presentation on the Financial Aid Department Mentor Project to the Board; noting the following:

The Mentoring Program began in 2013 and is continued today with help from staff members, Teresa Rotarius and Coleen Thrasher, who are responsible for recruiting and tracking mentors and mentees, planning events and activities, and providing support to mentors.

In 2010, Ms. Emmer realized the college had a huge loan default rate, so she began looking at programs that could provide financial literacy for students and found, through much research, that peer to peer mentoring was recommended. Wanting to find a way to help students who were at risk of losing financial aid, Ms. Emmer wrote and was approved for, a $45K grant renewable for three years. With the grant funds, she was able to provide training and training materials, which were given to individuals selected to be mentors for the program.

Through the confidential mentoring sessions, mentors learned that financial aid was not always the issue for their student mentees, often it was other issues such as living situations, daycare, or lack of access to the internet at home.

Also part of the three-year grant was Peer to Peer Financial Literacy Mentoring, which helped 91 students by providing fun student events and activities to provide financial literacy on topics such as life skills, credit card debt, and paying interest.

When the three-year grant was over, staff chose to continue mentoring students that were at risk of losing financial aid. The Financial Aid Mentoring program has helped 179 students since the program began in 2013. Of the 179 students, about two-thirds of the students were better at the end of the semester than they were at the beginning; meaning their GPA was higher or they completed all their classes, preventing them from losing their financial aid. Ms. Emmer noted that she felt every student talked to her and a mentor and were able to find resources within the college, so even if they stepped out of the program, it was still a win for the student and the college.

Since the conclusion of the three-year grant, the staff has found ways to utilize the many resources the college already offers, such as Advising, Tutors, mentors, and Financial Aid to provide mentoring, tutoring, and free workshops such as scholarships assistance and resume and career preparation.

Mr. Quinn asked what the return was on the investment of the $45K; Ms. Emmer replied the default rate decreased, and it allowed staff to mentor and provide financial literacy to at-risk students.

Mrs. Strain asked when Ms. Emmer began the effort to change the student debt issue; Ms. Emmer replied she, along with other staff, began the process in 2011, at which time the college had the second highest default rate, and now the college has the lowest. Ms. Emmer noted she is also asked to provide mentoring to other community colleges.

Dr. Rottweiler commended Ms. Emmer and stated she has also received recognition from ACCT for her significant efforts driving the college initiative to decrease the college’s then default rate from 30% of students in default on their loan, to now only 5%.
Mr. Quinn stated student the default rate has an impact on how the college stands in rankings such as in Wallet Hub.

Mr. Ortega thanked Ms. Emmer for her efforts and her presentation to the Board.

3.05 Provost Report

Dr. Verlyn Fick, Executive Vice President/Provost, addressed the Board stating that Cochise College is serious about student success and believes that higher education changes people’s lives. As a result, the concept of changing the numbers is out there, and those numbers might be what percentage of students are able to complete or what percentages of citizens are actually getting higher education credentials so they can succeed in their careers. The college feels that impacting the lives of individuals, also impacts families, communities, and the entire county. Mr. Quinn asked if there was a fee to be part of the organization; Mr. Boggie replied there is no fee. Mr. Quinn asked why the college selected CCA; Mr. Boggie stated that a team of five Cochise College members attended a meeting and after reviewing all the free materials, research, data statistics, and available access to CCA’s best practices and training materials, the team presented to senior administration with a recommendation to participate with CCA.

Mrs. Strain asked if the college could choose the game changers; Mr. Boggie replied that the college’s partnership agreement is that the college would give a good faith effort to implement all the game changers in the program.

Dr. Rottweiler stated the key part is, the college knows they can’t change every student. What has been seen in higher education is that most of the institutions have been shaped around access; Cochise can do better, and is restructuring the organization to let students in (access) still, but is looking at how to restructure to have students succeed. The college is going to work at implementing all the game changers to change the metrics.
